STUDENT LIFE

'The summer went by so quickly...' was what most people said when the returned to school. After a summer filled with countless days of not worring, J. Percy Page students returned to pre-planned days of school. The first few weeks were filled with, "Hey, I didn't want this class!", "I didn't realize I needed Math 10 to take Math 30. I've never heard of these prerequisites before.", and "I ain't needin' English! I got good grammar!" So, here's the WELCOME to this years yearbook. By the way, the panthers name is PERCY! -Yearbook '94

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

This past school year has been one of achievements and memories. Page has become a smoothly operating school that provides students with a wide range of course offerings and opportunities. We have become a force in the Edmonton Public School District because our strength is people - staff, parents, and students. We are proud to be a part of a winning group of scholars, performers, and athletes. Sincere thanks are in order for all the students who made this last school year special. Page students have much to be proud of. Our academic results are steadily improving. The AP results achieved by our students indicated that all passed the exams and some will receive advanced placement and/or credit at various universities. Our athletic teams captured city championships in Junior Men's Volleyball and Basketball and Senior Men's Volleyball, and were strong contenders in other sports. The fine arts department had an extremely successful year. The Encore I and Encore II One Act Festivals, theatre sports, "That's Entertainment Dinner Theatre", and the Edmonton City Drama Fest demonstrated our students' talents and skills. Our music students had a great year. Eighty five choral and instrumental students attended UNIFEST '93 in Saskatoon, the jazz band and vocal jazz performed at the Yardbird Suite, forty students went to Los Angeles and performed in Saskatoon, the jazz band and vocal jazz performed at the Yardbird Suite, forty students went to Los Angeles and performed at Disneyland, and they competed at Festival Canada in Banff. Well done!!! The most active student's union in Edmonton provided various fun activities the school year. Welcome Week activities, school dances, guest speakers, Halloween and Christmas activities, Anti-Racism forum, Family Day forum, and Fun Friday's helped make this school year a pleasant and rewarding experience. Have a relaxing and enjoyable holiday. I hope that those who leave Page at the end of the year have a successful future. I look forward to seeing the students who will be returning in the fall.

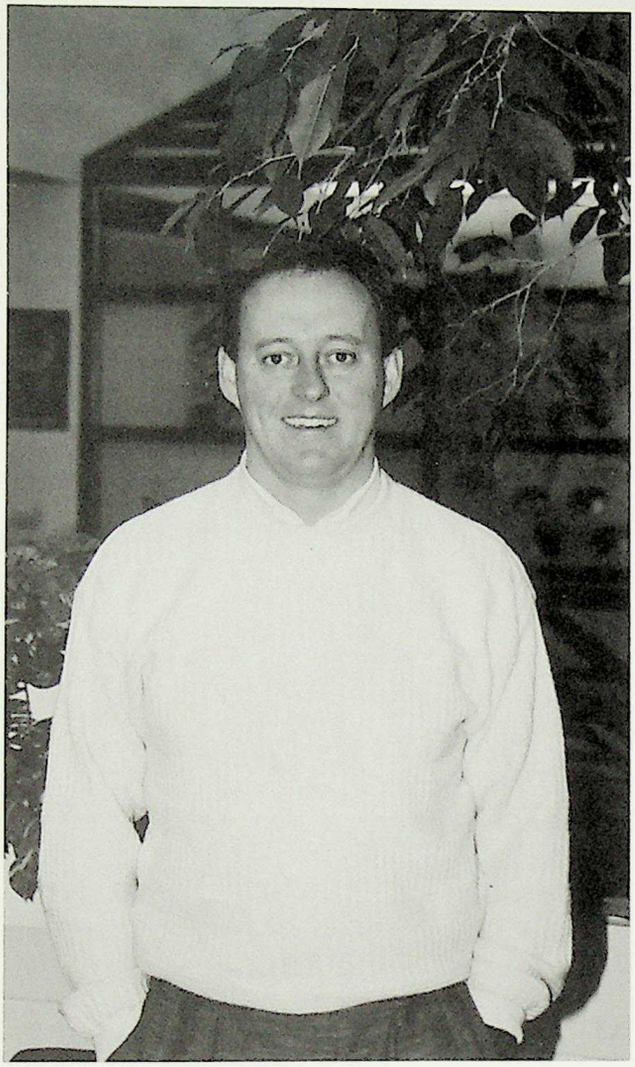
SUNWAPTA HOUSE



Mr. Stevenson's Message

I walked through the halls today and requested student help to write this Yearbook message. I asked, "What do you think of when you look back at your time at Page?" Answers included sport trips, the Pit, Mr. Norby's joke (I was unsure whether this was a positive memory), Constable Brownell, the Cave trip, Florida with the Band, golfing in -5 degrees, how the Grade 10, 11 and 12's get along, and over and over I hear the words "friendly" and "comfortable" used to describe the school. Students really feel they "belong and are not just a number" at Page.

At the recent "That's Entertainment" dinner theatre one of the teachers remarked, "Can you imagine those two together in class? They're both mine." There was obvious pride in the comment. As this teacher's advisees, the two students held a special status with her. The connection was more than the usual student/teacher relationship.

Friendly, comfortable, belonging, and pride - our accomplishments - not a bad way to remember your school or your students! I hope your years at Page provide you these, and many other memories.

S.U. SUNWAPTA BOARD

SHAUN'S MESSAGE

SU Sunwapta Board had a busy, succesful year. Along with monthly Fun Fridays and quarterly Birthday Bashes, we maintained our motto of being the 'Environmental House'. Cleaning up the Sunwapta House flower bed and the continuation of the green bin pop can recycling program are some examples. We distributed gifts to children at a poor inner city school as a Christmas project. Sunwapta Board and helpful staff members definitely made a difference!

YEARBOOK CLUB

Yearbook '94 "Panther Pride". Is there anything more that can be said. I think I speak for all of us on staff that we are proud of this book we made, and even if we aren't now, we will be in years to come.

Overall we had a good year. Our HARD-WORKING staff put in the extra effort to get our deadlines in on time. Too bad we still got letters saying we were short some pages. We also tried to minimize our mistakes this year, but as many people know, that is not as easy to do as it seems.

To all those on staff, thanks for the work. To Colin, Edgar, Kyle and Jason: One word--DONE! No more yearbook deadlines for us. To Pam, Dan, Janice, Crystal and Jeff: One word--HA!! At least one more year of this torture. To Chau: One question--Were you on staff or not this year? To Dan: Thanks for the artwork, I just wish it got here sooner. To Kyle and Jeff: There's more to a yearbook than just photos. To everyone else: One final Thank-You! Thanks

Other Thanks to: Mr. Zurawell for all the effort you spent running around to get those photos developed and cleaning the room for us (or at least complaining about the mess); Leah King, our Josten's Rep, for not terrorizing us as much as last year; and lastly, Mr. Gainer for getting us those team photos when we needed them.

Apologies to: Mrs. Burke, sorry we couldn't make room for the extra band page; and to the few grads who were unable to get their write-ups in. We tried, but we couldn't squeeze any more pages outta this book.

As Zurawell said at the beginning of the year, "If you think we did a bad job, join yearbook!" From what I gather, no one thought we did a bad job, because those who did join, stayed only a couple of weeks.

PEER SUPPORT TEAM

PEER SUPPORT MESSAGE

The team began the year with 19 students, all girls, from all three grades. A very successful retreat was held in mid-September at the Strathcona Wilderness Centre. Members assisted at school functions including Meet the Staff Night, Post-Secondary Info Day, and Open House. Many members actively worked in Student Services each day. The group took a comprehensive course on Depression and Suicide Prevention in conjunction with the Millbourne Health Unit. We wish our graduating students - Brandi Bracegirdle, Kathy Doyle, Anita Johny, Aisha Mirza, Randeep Nota, and Amber Zimmer - the very best of luck and thank them for their services this year!

Supporters of Life (SOL)

KIM'S MESSAGE

Throughout the year SOL has raised money and contributed time to many worthwhile causes. One of our major causes is the 30 hour famine in which we were able to raise over $5,000. Since we have no budget given to us by the school, all of our contributions were donated by fundraisers through cookie drives, T-shirt sales and pop can recycling. Donations to Amnesty International and the World Wildlife fund were made possible by doing this work. I thank all of the members and supporters.

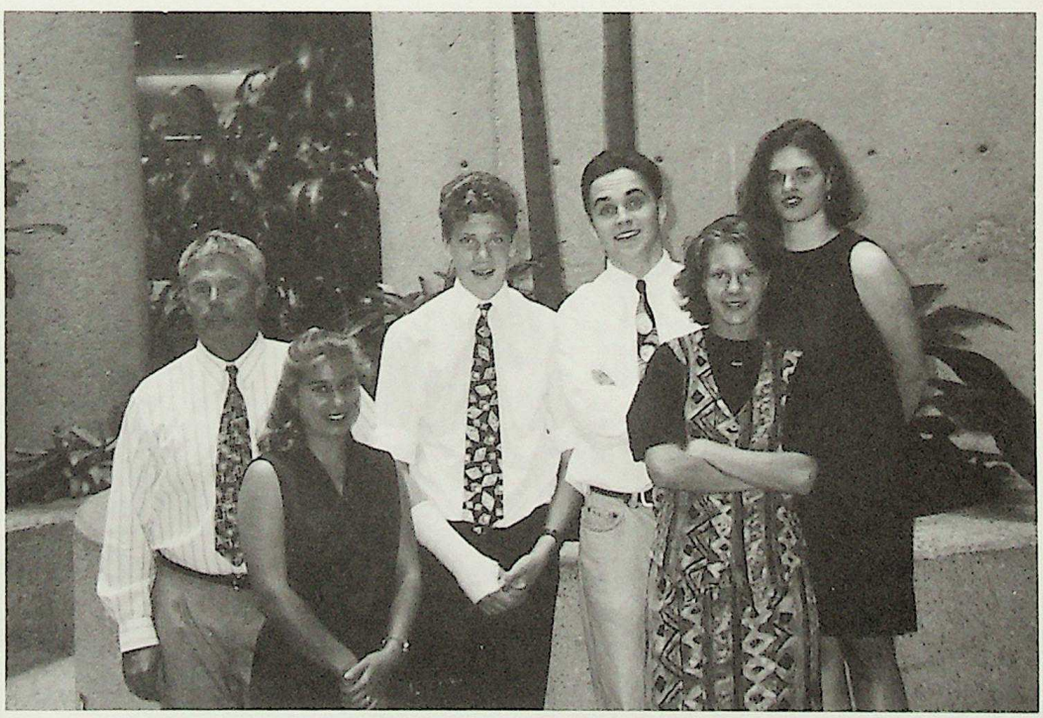
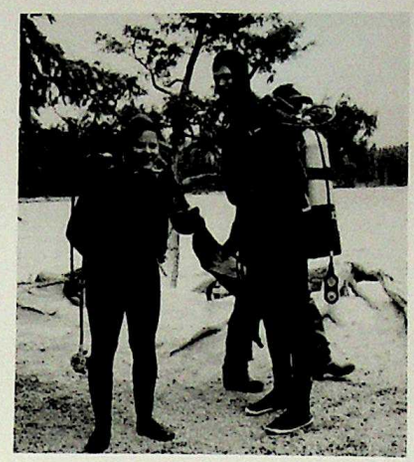
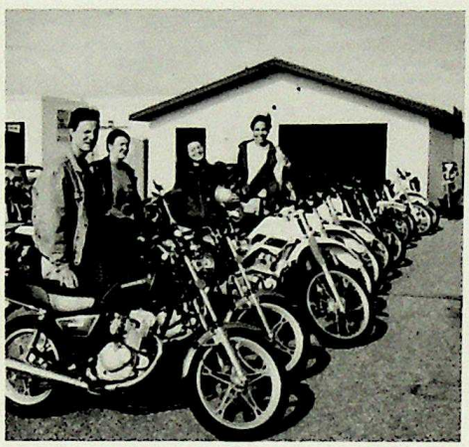
ATHLETICS BOARD



ADVENTURE CLUB





The first crew to fo skydiving with the Adventure Club, just after their jump on October 24, 1992. From left to right are Corrina Larsen, Annemarie Kurylo, Sarah Tungland, and Aisha Mirza. Their first jump was made from a Cessna 172 after a 4-hour video and ground practice session with the ParaSport Skydive Centre in Westlock. The "square canopy" patachutes used are very manoeuvrable-students are directed by radio from the ground so they "fly"back to the target area, avoiding lengthy hikes back to the drop zone!

WAPITI HOUSE

Mrs. Mather's Message

This has been a challenging year for Albertans. It is a time of uncertainty as we face massive budget cuts and upheaval. It is not a time to sit back in quiet acceptance, it is a time to determine what is meaningful and what must be done to preserve what we value. As I observe our students, I see many qualities that can lead to memorable and valuable lives.

I believe we have much reason for hope, because our students demonstrate strength and courage along with individuality and resposibility. As you enter another stage of your lives, let people know who you are and what you're committed to. Listen to others and show compassion, accept individual differences but cherish your own individuality. Accept tasks and enjoy the satisfaction of their completion. As you are given increased responsibilities, value the learning that these opportunities offer.

Graduates remember that each phase of life has disappointments and challenges. Don't dwell on the setbacks and don't resign yourself to acceptance. Choose to live creatively in the face of adversity and make a contribution, be heard and enjoy being alive.

S.U. WAPITI BOARD

Sophie's Message

Wapiti Board got off to a slow start, but successfully raised Wapiti spirit by handing out birthday cards, lollipops, blue cards, hosting a party for Wapiti achievement and awarding Winsmore bears. We made a food hamper at Christmas, hosted a heart hunt for Valentines Day and an easter egg hunt for Easter and organized many Fun Fridays. We would like to thank Ms. Arnold, Miss.Kemp, Mrs.Mather and Mrs. Matter, and all our board members who made Wapiti the best it could be. Good luck to Wapiti in future.

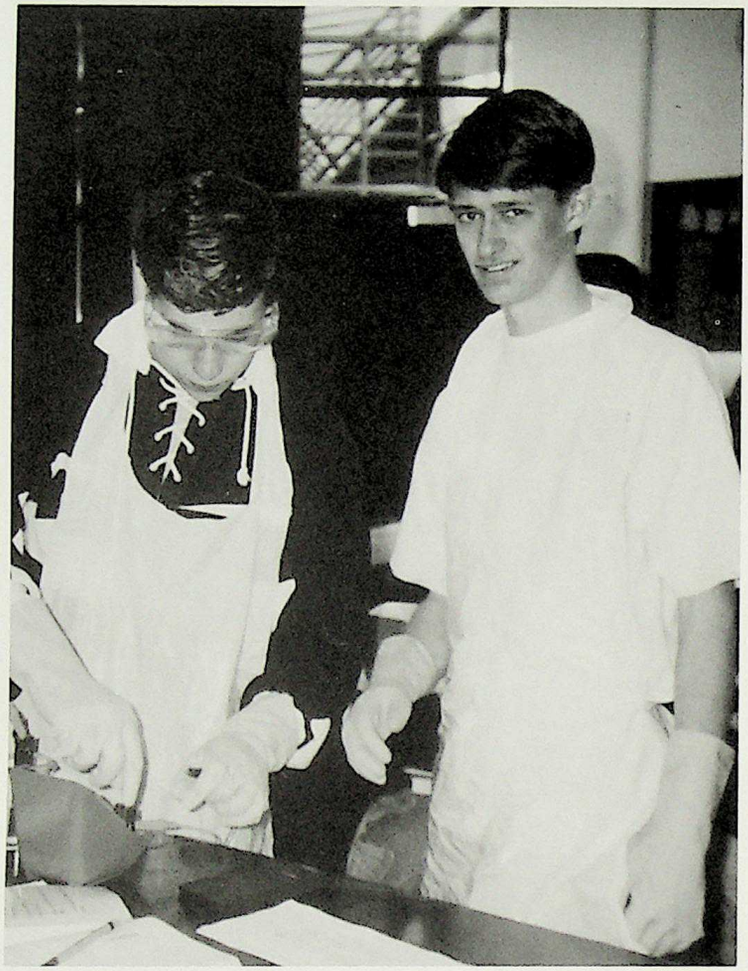
ACADEMICS



Academics, the main reason we are all here at this school. (And any other school for that matter). Five main academic departments exist in this school, English, headed by Ms. Kemp; Mathematics, headed by Mr. Heilman; Social Studies, headed by Mr. Long; Science, by Mr. Gainer; and the LOTE (Languages Other Than English) department, headed by Mme. Butlin.

Now for the editorial written by C. Bober: One question commonly asked by students is "When will we ever use this stuff?" I've got only one response to this question, "I don't know." Really, when will we need to know the inverse of a sine wave, or write an essay criticizing great works of literature. Many of us students will never need to know these types of things after high school, considering the current recession. The only things we may need to know is how to flip burgers, or solicit various things over the phone. I would dearly love to know, why it is we have to learn things we may never use after high school. Is there any reason for this madness? Yes, for our education, and our future.

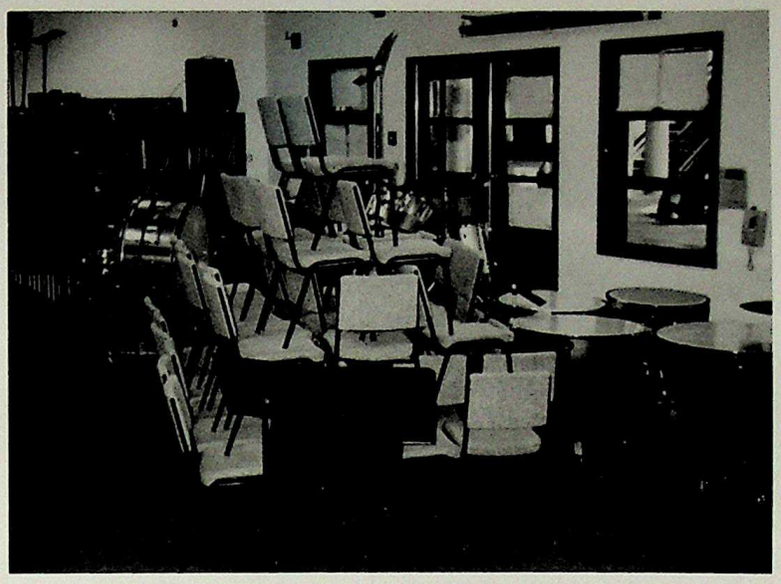
MUSIC



The Page Music students had a very exciting year with many performances, competitions, awards, and unexpected international recognition.

We began with our usual programs and those many hours of rehersals. The Concert Band, Jazz Band, Concert Choir and Jazz Choir started the fall term competing at Unifest '93 in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan. After a succesful competition we returned to Edmonton for our Christmas Concert and very popular Elementary School tours.

Our Jazz Band entertained during the Special Awards, our Choir at the Stuart Olson Christmas Party and the Jazz Choir and Jazz Band took part in Jazz Works '94 at the Yardbird suite in Edmonton last January.

February was an exciting month for about 40 students. They performed in Disneyland at the Main Street Pavillion and the Disneyland Hotel Dock stage. The highlight of the trip for many students was the boat ride to Catalina Island, surrounded by the clearest and cleanest water in California. The sea life and natural vegetation is a reminder of what California was like before heavy settlement changed it. A natural preserve, Catalina was a welcome respite from our hectic schedule.

Back in Edmonton we performed at Open House, International Human Rights Day and at Festival Canada (now re-named the Rocky Mountain Music Festival) in Banff. Our performing year was completed with our Spring Concert, Commencement Ceremonies, and Awards Night.

This year we were especially honoured by two international invitations. The first went to one of our "rare" male singers, Graeme Rattray, who was invited to tour with the U.S.A. Collegiate Choir this July in Europe. To date, Graeme is the first Edmonton student to be so honoured.

Our second invitation was from the International Youth Festival in Vienna, Austria, inviting the Concert Band and the Concert Choir to compete in the Festival in July 1995. As well as the International Competition (only fifty groups are invited from North America) the groups tour and perform in Germany and Austria for twelve days.

Both these invitations denote International recognition for our students. All of those noon hour rehearsals obviously do pay off!!

(Top) More than just musical talent - Music students practiced stacking chairs for after their concerts - quite a unique arrangement!!

(Middle) Choir members also prepare to participate in Vienna Austria - they have some amazing talents.

DRAMA

This was the year for one acts! We performed, directed, and sometimes wrote 26 one-act plays for the ENCORE drama festival and theatre arts class. "The Enchanted Night" and "The Zoo Story" were chosen to represent Page at the city festival and maybe move on to the provincial festival at Red Deer College. We ran around every Wednesday when Page's own comedy troupe, The Creatively Impaired, showed their stuff and some skin during The Wednesday at Noon Show. With grad brought the keynote speech which Ms. Shewchuk was bestowed the honour. The speech was accompanied by a "slide show" with "live" pictures. Thank you Ms. Shewchuk for your support, fashion sense, and of course, patience. We thank you, reader,for your applause and your time.

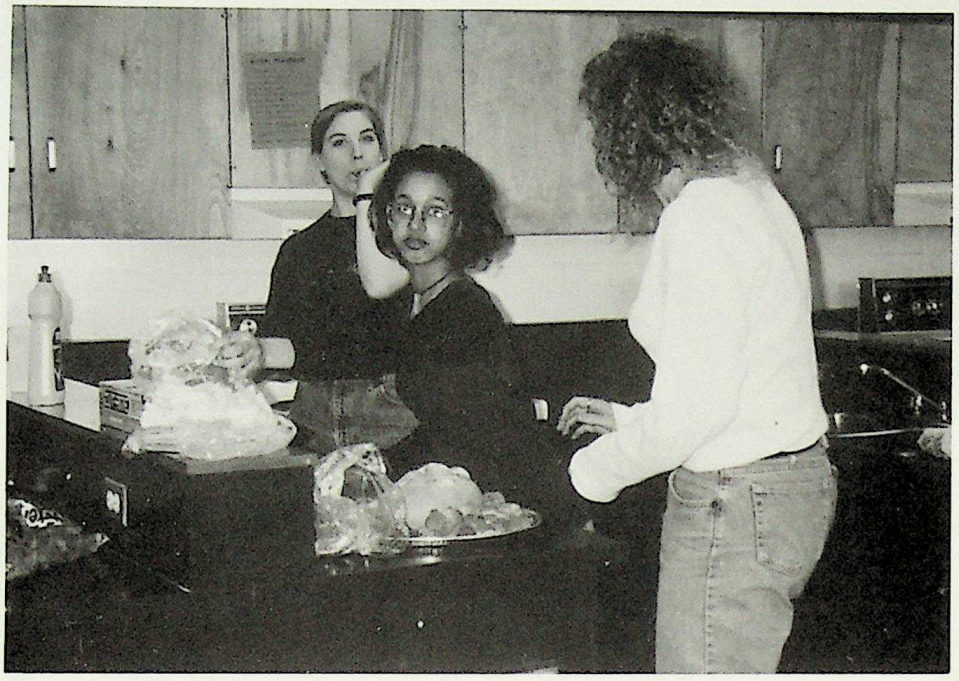
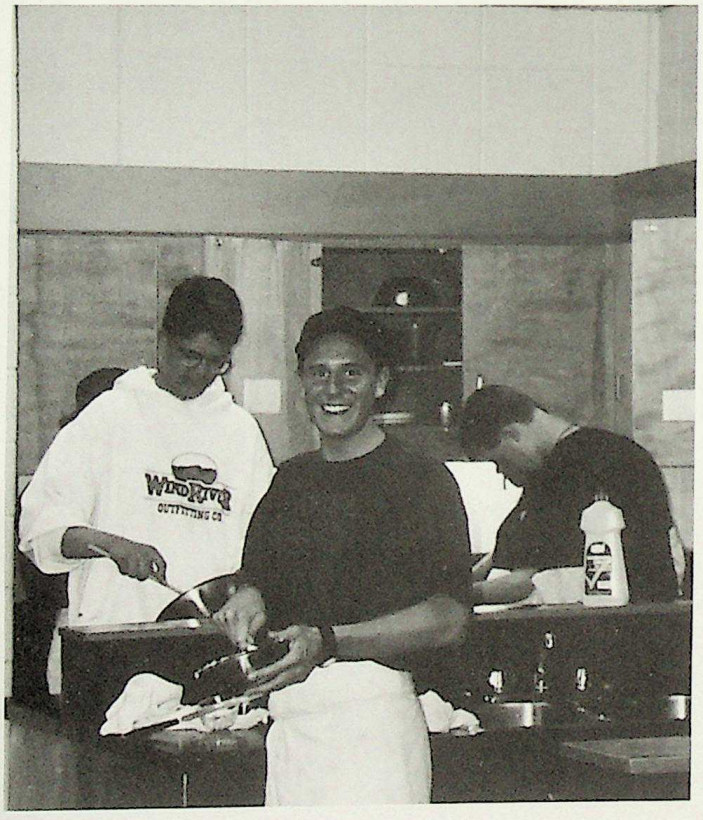
Food Studies



Besides becoming better skilled in the preparation of food and the theretical aspects of food, Foods classes were involved in some special events this year. Testing and judging recipes for the Journals cooking contest and participating with the drama department have become two events we look forward to every year. The involvement with the Stuart Olsen/J.Percy Page Children's Christmas Party are also highlights that marked the Foods Studies Departmant a success. The involvement with other areas of the school, as well as the community, have provided us with many enjoyable and educational experiences



ART

Art Department "pitches in"

Art students and classes "lent an artistic hand" and assisted with school events and activities this year. Posters, banners and displays have been created for Page events like Remembrance Day Ceremonies, The Works Banner Competition, Halloween Week, The International Human Rights Day Conference, The Mosaic, Awards Night and Open House. As well, student government often uses the art room to make S.U. posters. When there is an activity happening the art students are sure to be involved.

BEAUTY CULTURE

Beauty Culture is an exciting, active area that keeps up with the continuous new trends and styles in the art of hair design. During the year we have in-school and inter-school hair competitions; journey to world-class hair shows, and we act as school ambassadors to our community through customer services. Students are able to use their most creative skills and practical talents earning their way to awards and scholarships, they are also prepared for their apprenticeship program and ultimately their future licenses.

GRAD COUNCIL

Grad Council members were Kevin Worth, Shannon Gavin, Amber Zimmer, Amy Novak, Edgar Arca, Amy Novak, Clarice Carlsen, Pam Kruger, Kathy Doyle, Jennifer Callum, Sarah Stewart, and Daisy Ratnanandan. The advisor was Mr. Bushewsky.

KEVIN'S MESSAGE

It has been three years of high school, homework and fun. Graduation is finally here and my butterflies have been building for this night for a long time. This nervous feeling brings back memories of the first day of high school. What do I wear? How do I act? How should I stand? Who should I talk to? Where should I eat lunch? What's with the windows for walls? Well, I survived that day and the next couple of school years and so did you. Suddenly it's our last year and major decisions have to be made. Grad Council had a lot of these decisions to make.

The entire Grad Council has worked extremely hard throughout the year. They all deserve our thanks. But their efforts would have been wasted if not for the incredible support and help of Mr. Bushewsky. The ceremony and banquet would not have been possible without his help. I hope we always remember these nights of celebration for truly "This is the Moment" for the Grads of '94: the moment we start our lives in the real world, the moment we say hello to really being adults, the moment we have worked twelve years to reach, and the moment to celebrate! To my fellow Graduands of 1994: Follow your heart and find happiness in whatever you do.

GRAD SLIDE SHOW

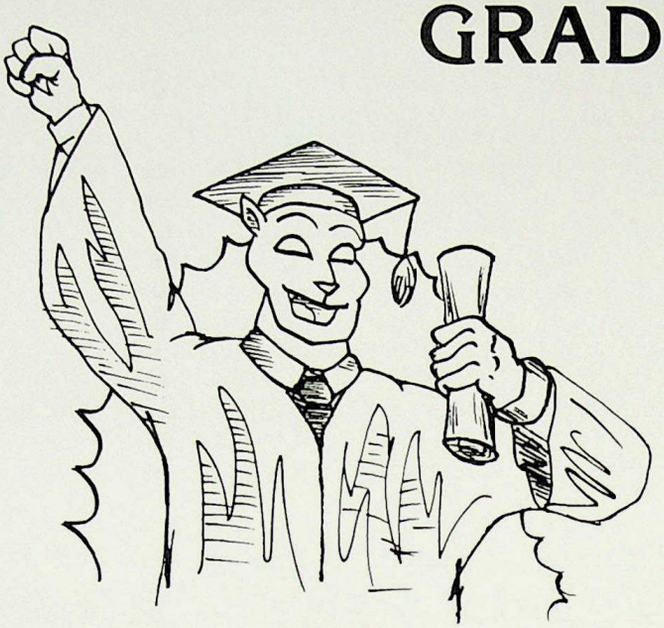
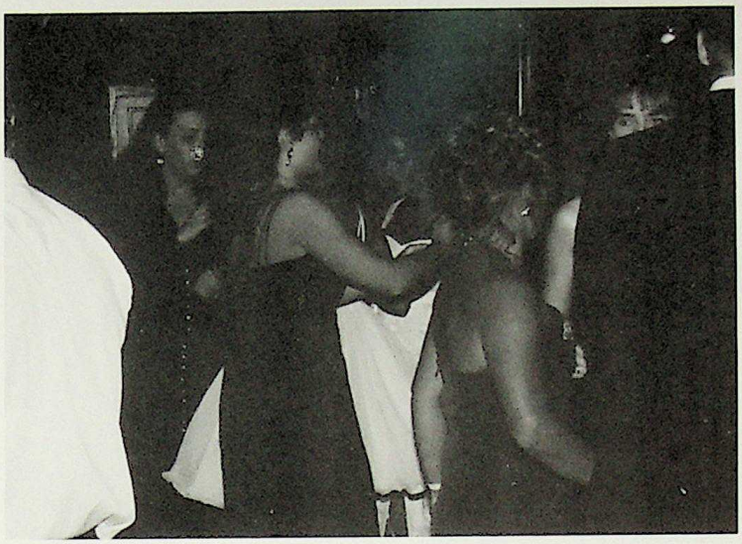
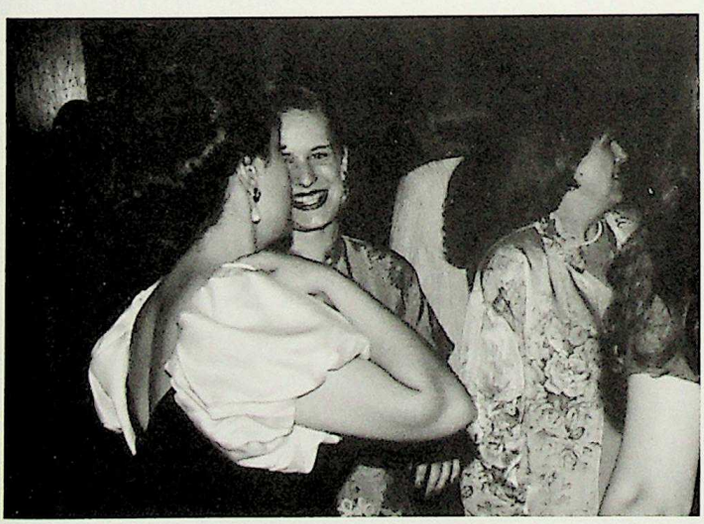
SANDEEP'S MESSAGE

*FLASH*CLICK*THAT SLIDE'S NOT GOOD ENOUGH*WHEW!!! What a stressful year, but we made it! After more than 500 pictures of anyone, anything, anyplace, and at anytime, we were near insanity. Through all the hair-pulling, nail biting, and frustrating meetings, we accomplished our mission of giving the Grad Class of '94 the best show possible. It would not have been possible without the endless number of hours Mr. Gainer put into it. Thanks a whole bunch! Congratulations CLASS OF 1994! To future grad slide show members, "WE WERE HERE FOR A GOOD TIME, NOT A LONG TIME!!"

GRADUATION







GRAD FASHION SHOW

Once again the Grad Fashion Show was an outstanding success,that was marked by a virtual sellout. The tedious labour created by dedicated students and teachers, on and off the stage has made the annual show one of the greatest. Both male and female models showed their wares with style and grace, as the appreciative audience could see the countless hours that have been put into modeling classes. Their beauty was not to be outdone by the beautiful mastery created by Page's own music students. Special thanks must also be made to the refreshment and decorating committees, who not only satisfied our stomachs but our eyes as well. And who can not forget the brilliant work done by Daisy R., James.H, Mrs.Ewenson, Mrs.Sparrow,Mrs.Walter, and the Peer Support Team, who were the driving force behind the show!

HISTORIANS' MESSAGE

MI: Jason Middelton
MC: Jason McLester

MC: It is our pleasure tonight to try and recall memorable events that have happened to us, the graduating class of 1994.
MI: With a tremendous amount of input from our fellow graduates we have compiled about a few memorable moments, and general descriptions about Page that have made it special to us throughout our high school career
MC: and for those who lave Page so much, another year of special moments awaits you.
MI: Do you remember the time the Swat team opened fire on our school.
MC: Yea, yea or the time when Godzilla was eating a canteloupe in he pit
MI: or the time when Elvis
MC: Jay, I don't think they're buying it, Elvis is dead.
MI: DOOOOPE! When did that happen?
MC: No really, there were a lot of unforgetable moments like....uh....uh
MI: Jay, look at the script.
MC: Well the place to start would be grade 10 registration.
MI: The only thing I remember was an elderly, bearded man with a short skirt, but the real hrror was in grade 11 when I found out he was my social studies teacher.
MC: No doubt, the least he could have done was shave his legs. The thing that scarred me for life was when I was greeted into grade 10 with 4 madmen streaking the hallways with nothing but smiles and socks. I still have nightmares.
MI: Actually not all of our memories are as emotionally traumatic as that, we have had a lot of fun times.
MC: The Student's Union have held events to bring us as a school closer together.
MI: My fondest memories was our dances
MC: Yea, they were jammed packed, you could hardly move on the dance floor.
MI: They have also held other events to make Page what it is.
MC: Yea, like that Mr.Page Contest. Not only did the adonis Derek Ellsworth upset the graduating class of last year to take the title, Brad Stwanicky followed it up this year with poses that would make Arnold cry.
MI: My favorite event was musical chairs....it was so popular it had to be played nine times this year!
MC: All of those extra-curricular activities were great but the real education came inside the classroom. In math class I learned that D stands for DOOIYOOI, and if you stick a pencil up your nose long enough it will eventually will start to bleed.
MI: In science class there was a slew of information that I obtained that was very relevent to my life, such as calorimetry, Rydberg's constant, or the impotant role that fungi plays in the world around us. But most importantly to master the art of power napping.
MC: ZZZ...ZZZ.....ZZZ....
MI: Jay wake up!
MC: Huh, what, I thought that I was in Mr. Buxton's bio class.
MI: I don't know what I could have done without drama, it has helped me become an artistically expressive person I am today. To be or not to be.....line
MC: That is the question.
MI: What is the question?
MC: No, the line is: That is the question.
MI: Ooh, Ah forget it. Some students weren't satisfied with exploring their inner selves, they felt they had to explore the ventilation system above the drama room.
MC: Good thing that the janitors brought them back to reality. In French class we learned how to speak the language of love.
MI: Baby, J'aime le chocolat
MC: Oookay, moving away from that, the main thing that I learnedd in French was that..I'm no good at other languages.
MI: When I first entered English I thought that this should be an easy course, I meam I already speak the language, boy was I mistaken. Another language enirely.
MC: By my juxtaposition of the terza rima and the logical paradigm I learned that the Nemean Lion colloquializes the Plurisignation of metaphysical conceit.
MI: What did you just say?
MC: I have no idea but it got me an 80 on my last essay.
MI: Social
MC: Grade 10 Physical Education had to be the grossest course I have ever taken. Since when is wrestling around with 20 other sweaty guys hitting puberty, trying to find out who they are considered fun? I don't know about you but I don't want any 250 pound guy named House discovering himself while having his hands on my body.
MI: No doubt. Where were those co-ed classes when you needed them? Now CALM was the most important class of my high school career.
MC: I have a confession to make. I was not always the strong person you see before you, before CALM I was a mess. It taught me the things I needed to learn in order to survive.
MI: Just so everyone knows, my egg baby is now a well adjusted member of society who is now obtaining his science degree.
MC: The class that was almost as important as CALM was advisor. Those attendance profiles went home every week so that my parents could check them over.
MI: Yea, Where's the garbage can?
MC: The thing that has made Page special for me was you guys, the students. You have put in your hard-earned time and effort to make this place a good place to be.
MC: As both Jason and I have discovered, being an athlete at J. Percy Page is an experience unparalleled. The people I met, the friendships created will last a lifetime. The people that surround the athletic program both as teachers and as students are tremendous people, they have the ability to manage their time to give 110% in everything they do. I strongly believe that athletic programs in high school are essential, not only as a form of exercise but most impotrtantly as a lesson in life. To be able to completely experience the thrill of victory, and the agony of defeat is not something that can be taught, it must be felt. In whatever sport be it rugby, curling, basketball, or handball each and every one of you, I hope, has experienced both emotions because I know you'll become a stronger person for it. To all the teachers who put in their time, and unmatched effort you have my gratitude. For without you this whole experience could not be possible. It is you who have inspired us, given us the knowledge needed to succeed, not only at sports but at life. To all the students involved in athletics, too many to mention, I thank you. I thank you for your time, effort, and most of all for taking that journey with me, I don't know if I could have done it alone.
MI: Something that I feel makes Page special is and that I am thankful for is the performing arts at Page. This includes both the music and drama departments. The musicians at Page are a great group of people. At most of the school functions, you are there performing whether it be one of the bands or one of the choirs. You have represented the school in a number of different music festivals. Even though every note might have not always been on pitch, the beauty and pride of your music always shines through. The drama students also make Page a more interesting place to be. Throughout the years they have put on a number of solid one-act plays and a few of them have even advanced to provincial competition. Dinner theatres have been put on each year and there was even a musical performed at Page by the students (despite some trouble with Rapunzel's hair). Each production is a pleasure to watch. To all of the teachers and students who are involved in performing arts, the incredible amount of time and effort you put in is very appreciated.
MC: To the students involved in Students Union you have truly made a difference at Page throughout the years. You have been heavily involved in student life, and it shows. From organizing activities such as Fun Fridays and dances, to hosting forums and running food drives, you have contributed to Page's school spirit. Even though the turnout at some of the events has been a bit low, you are to be commended for the time and effort put into every one of the activities.
MI: The thing that we will miss the most will be the teachers.
MC: Yea, I don't know how I'll survive.
MI: Since most of us will be moving on, we have compiled a list of gifts to buy our teachers as going-away presents.
MC: First on our gift list is that comedic Math teacher Mr. Skitch. His gift is plain and simple, a book of new jokes.
MI: Some people really get into their work, Mr. Pysyk is one of those guys. So for him we chose a chalk resistant outfit.
MC: I think Mr. Lotz should have been Italian because he always uses hand gestures, so on those days when his fingers get tired we bought him a pointer.
MI: For Mrs. Burke, who has some rowdy students in her music class, we chose a music stand so that she could use it to part the hair of all those trouble makers.
MC: For the man with the kilt, Mr. Kirchmeir, we chose a personal grooming kit.
MI: For his beard?
MC: No, for his legs.
MI: We were thinking of putting some new clothes on the list for Mrs. Shewchuk, but since she only wears her outfits once - forget about that!
MC: The health of our teachers is of utmost importance to us so for Mr. Jensen, who wears his shorts until Santa arrives we chose a pair of pants to keep out those February chills.
MI: We didn't put anything on the list for Mr. Montgomery, but we were kind of wondering if he could send back some Cuban cigars for us.
MC: Not that we would smoke them. No.
MI: No, no, no, just souveniers.
MC: You know yesterday I was relaxing, watching T.V. and an old show came on, Happy Days. Suddenly out of nowhere I swear I saw Mr. Degrande but later I found out his name was Richie Cunningham. So for you Mr. Degrande we have chosen a Happy Days video.
MI: Students who are late for Mr. Loehde's class have often had to pay the 25 cent toll. These contributions were cut short when at the beginning of the year someone "borrowed" his late jar.

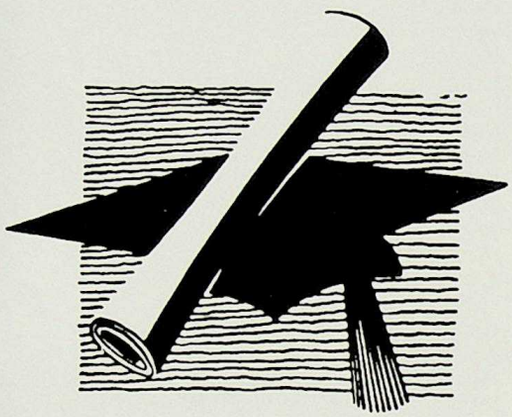
MC: Hey Jay, I don't believe it! I found the jar!
MI: Where's the money?
MC: Uhh, uhh, I don't have it.
MI: And for Mr. Buxton we thought of something really original and unique...a turtle neck!
MC: You can never get enough turtle necks. On a serious note, there is a man with us tonight who has devoted himself whole heartedly to J. Percy Page, and is now leaving us for a golf course. That man is Mr. Gainer, I hope you will all join me in a heartfelt round of applause, as a sign of our undying gratitude.
MI: Well Jay This is the moment. This is what we have strived for, and we are finally here.
MC: As I look out into the crowd I see a group of people, friends, who have gone through something - high school.
MI: To each and every one of you...
MC:...Thanks for the great times.
-Shake hands, hug, thanks to the crowd.



VALEDICTORIAN'S MESSAGE

Honored guests, parents, staff and fellow graduands.

Tonight as we graduands walk across the stage to receive our diplomas, our heads are held high in pride, honour and relief at having survived at least twelve years of schooling. As we are handed our diplomas a transformation is definitely taking place. Surging through our veins and rushing through our heads are feelings of pure elation, feelings only one word can describe - VICTORY! This is the moment that makes all our hard work seem worthwhile when each one of us tonight will throw up our cap and scream, "I did it!" "I made it!" And indeed we have.

We, the graduating classof 1994, have survived a great deal the past three years, both together and apart:friends, relationships, companionship, and teamwork, but also tears, toil, hardships, and homework. Throughout our high school years we have worked together on teams, in clubs, in the classroom, and even outside of school. In all of these activities we have acquired special skills and talents. Some of us are student leaders, some of us are good athletes, some of us are good listeners and good friends, some of us know how to work a computer, and still others know how to create a masterpiece of art or literature with simply a pen and paper. We all have, each in our own unique ways, made a difference to our school.

But now we must leave our school life and venture out into the unknown. The end of high school is probably the most frightening time of our lives because we must come to terms with what our capabilities truly are and we nust decide what to do with our lives. This decision may not be easy but our dreams are alive, and we can make them become reality. This is the moment when the world becomes ours and we step into that "real world" that we have been told about for so long. We all have much to offer the world and we must all use our own special talents to find a place where we can make a difference. We can think of life as Walt Whitman did when he wrote that life exists, and identity. Thatthe powerful play goes on and you may contribute a verse." Every single one of us has a special contributionto make to the world. We must give our gift to the world, whether large or small. We should leave behind us a legacy that will be remembered. So my fellow graduands, this is the moment for us to realize both our potential and our limitations and to vow to ourselves to offer our own special verse.

As we take the world into our hands and prepare to make our contribution to it, we realize that this is the moment when life really begins and we have the potential to accomplish miracles. But in order to do this we must have the strength, the willpower and the courage to make the world a better place. I would like to share with you a little prayer which I am sure you have all heard. Perhaps hearing these words will give us all the courage we need to succeed.

God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change The courage to change the things I can. And the wisdom to know the difference.

We may not all be perfect but we do have the wisdom to know what our limitations are, and the potential to make our lives what we want them to be.

Along with the optimism of the future, there is a sadness in leaving the school we have attended for 3 years. We will part with many of our friends in order to pursue our dreams. But we should not feel grief about parting; instead we should feel privliged that we have had time to spend together.

We must thank our teachers for pushing us so hard, all the while knowing exactly what for. The whole time we thought our teachers were taking away our lives, they were actually presenting us with the tools we need to build ourselves successful and rewarding lives.

We must also thank our families, especially our parents who althoughthey never quite understood us, have supported us throughtout our lives, and have continued to love us no matter what we did.

Finally I have leave you with gratitude for the past three years and all we have learned together, congratulations for tonight and encouragement for the future.
